Harry Tasker (Bill Paxton). Upon discovering this, Tasker sets out on a personal mission to win his wife back and find out Simon's true motives. Meanwhile, a Middle Eastern terrorist organization known as "Crimson Jihad" is on the rise, threatening nuclear war with the United States if their demands are not met. As the clock winds down, Tasker must not only fight against the bloodthirsty terrorists, but also fight to regain the trust of his family. A fearless, globe-trotting, terrorist-battling secret agent has his life turned upside down when he discovers his wife might be having an affair with a used car salesman while terrorists smuggle nuclear war heads into the United States. This is without doubt one of the best action films ever made and is Arnie's most entertaining. There is a strong cast with Tia Carrera and Jaimee Lee Curtis there to keep us guys drooling and Tom Arnold offers some comic support. The movie goes along at a cracking pace and the action set pieces are superbly played. One of the few downers would have to be the needless sub-plot of Arnie spying on his wife which takes up a third of the film. Arnie is probably too old to produce another action of this standard mind you people must have thought the same at the start of the last decade. True Lies is one of the greatest movies Arnold ever did. It has all the basics for a action movie. I strongly suggest anyone who has not seen it rent it or buy it. I feel it is simply a must have in a home video collection. This mixture of comedy and super-agent spectacle works well at first. But when Schwarzenegger's family and working worlds link up -- an inevitable development -- the plot becomes increasingly ridiculous and overwrought. After a mission in Switzerland, which he sneaked into a mansion during a party, to find evidence that Iranian financier Jamal Khaled ([\[link\]nm0542000\[/link\]](#)) is financing an Islamic terrorist group led known as "The Crimson Jihad" led by Salim Abu Aziz ([\[link\]nm0539562\[/link\]](#)) aka "The Sand Spider". Harry Tasker ([\[link\]nm0000216\[/link\]](#)), an American secret agent working for a government organisation called "The Omega Sector" that deals in anti-terrorism, begins following Aziz's trail and begins to suspect beautiful Antiques dealer Juno Skinner ([\[link\]nm0000119\[/link\]](#)), whom was one of the party guests, may be involved with Aziz. After pursuing Aziz, whom escapes. Harry soon learns that his wife Helen ([\[link\]nm0000130\[/link\]](#)), whom is not aware that Harry is an American spy and believes Harry is a computer salesman, is having an affair with a man called Simon ([\[link\]nm0000200\[/link\]](#)). After discovering Simon is a car salesman, whom is pretending to be a secret agent, so he can manipulate Helen into having sex with him and interrogates Helen and scares Helen and Simon into ending the affair, after catching them together. Harry decides to give Helen an assignment, since Helen is a bored with her life and wants excitement, which he poses as a man suspected of being a arms dealer, which Helen poses as a prostitute, so she can plant a bug in the telephone in his hotel room. But, when Harry and Helen are both abducted by Aziz, Harry is forced to reveal to Helen that he is a secret agent and Harry and Helen escape from the island outside of Miami, where they are being held captive, which is nuked and Harry sets out to rescue his 14-year old daughter Dana, whom has been taken hostage by Aziz in a building in Miami and stop Aziz, whom plots to detonate a nuclear warhead, which will wipe out Miami. It is Por Una Cabeza, by The Tango Project. Song composed in 1935 by Carlos Gardel and Alfredo Le Pera. The old British DVD is slightly censored. Ten scenes were altered, mostly fighting scenes showing double-ear-claps, headbutts and so on. All cuts were waived for the newest releases. The flash from the initial explosion of a nuclear warhead is so intense it can blind a human. When the scientists of the Manhattan Project detonated the 1st atomic bomb in 1945, they all wore dark goggles so they could watch the explosion without being blinded. If you watch footage of that event, you'll see them all putting on goggles. While the title may seem like a contradictory statement, as in "lies that are true", it actually refers to the lies being pure or outright lies. Kind of like saying "They're a true soldier". The film has several characters that lie to each other - Harry lies to Helen about him being a computer salesman, when he is really a secret agent. Simon the car salesman lies to Helen about him being a secret agent himself, so he can manipulate Helen into having sex with him. Helen lies to Harry about leaving the office to meet with Simon at the Chinese restaurant, etc. Simon ([\[link\]nm0000200\[/link\]](#)) is a smarmy, cowardly, smug used car salesman. He talks himself up to his customers, however he is simply trying to cover his insecurities, although he can probably read people well, hence his being a salesman. Later in the film, he confesses that he has to lie to women to have sex and he isn't successful most of the time. When he sees Helen at the restaurant, he thought she would be an easy mark; attractive, uptight, dorky. So he thought his secret agent story would work on her, offering her adventure and excitement. His hunch turned out to be correct. But little did either of them know, Helen's "boring jerk" of a husband is a real secret agent. Yes, it is

a remake of a 1991 French film called La Totale! about a secret agent whose wife thinks he's a telecommunications employee. Arnold Schwarzenegger had seen the film and told James Cameron about it and they decided to do a remake, which became True Lies, thinking it would make a good movie. a5c7b9f00b
